Between 7:30 a.m. and 7:45 a.m. on 7 l'ay 16 Pe-2s, 2 biplanes, 1 Li-2 and 1 twin-jet plane at the rield. One Ri-2 took off from a north-south take-off strip marked by white flags. In the morning of 7 May 25X1 the twin-engine planes which had taken off at Wiener Neustadt field landed at Voeslau airfield, At 12:10 p.m., nine 25X1 twin-jet planes were parked at Voeslau airfield. a radio truck fitted with a rod antenna to the northern end of the take-off strip. 25X1 5. Between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. on 12 May planes, 2 Aira Cobra F 63 A planes, 2 biplanes and 2 Li-2s at the field. 16 Pe-2s, 9 twin-jet Another Li-2 landed at 1:30 p.m. Prior to 1 p.m., weather was about 5/10 overcast, but cloudiness increased to 9/10 after that time. Visibility was good with the cloud ceiling at about 3,000 meters. Flying by twin-jet aircraft was started after 8 a.m. Individual flights of 15- to 30-minute duration were made. 25X1 6. Van-like truck which arrived on the Voeslau-Moedling (0 49/X 37) road entered at Bundeslehranstalt (federal government school) in Moedling. 25X1 Comment, Bad Voeslau airfield is occupied by an air reconnaissance regiment. It is not yet clear whether the I1-28s previously stationed in Wiener Neustadt and observed in Bad Voeslau after 7 May were nermanently transferred there. 25X1 some of these I1-23s had plexiglass noses while at other I1-23s only sections of the noses consisted of plexiglass, indicates that the II-28s involved do not belong to a regular bomber unit. It appears more probable that the planes are assigned to a retraining unit for bomber and reconnaissance crews. The unit may also be employed for occasional joint exercises with fighter units.
